RMA Family and Community Holiday Party with a Choral performance by the Angel Choir Conducted by musical director, Pamela Kuhn

The RMA is hosting a party to celebrate the holidays. Members of the RMA and our community audience are invited and most welcome along with their friends and family. No membership meeting is scheduled. The party begins at 9:30 a.m., the singing at 11:00.

Refreshments will be served. If you have some special Holiday treat you would like to share, please feel free to contribute to the festivities. However, that is not required.

Under the direction of its founder and director Pamela Kuhn, The Angel Choir will perform selections from their repertoire, including holiday songs and Christmas carols. All are encouraged to join in the singing.

The Angel Choir is a singing group dedicated to cancer patients, survivors, and their families and friends. They use music to experience joy, for restorative healing, and as a means of reviving the spirit. The central theme for the group is "Encouragement!" The act of singing is a visceral experience combining the power of the voice, mind, body, and spirit. Working with cancer patients through music is a humbling experience. It provides an opportunity for members of the choir to "give back" by supporting everyone who comes to sing while remembering the people we have lost.

Musical director Ms. Kuhn is a professional singer and voice teacher. After earning her master's degree at the University of Southern California, she performed in London for twenty years. She has sung in opera houses and recital halls in Vienna, London, Venice, Paris, and cities across America. She is a coach to many professional singers, who perform in a variety of musical genres from opera to rock and roll. She is also a choral director, conducting the MasterSingers of Greenwich and the Silvertones at the Greenwich Senior Center. On her local radio program, "Center Stage with Pamela Kuhn" on WGCH Tuesday mornings at 9AM, Ms. Kuhn interviews a variety of individuals on aspects of music and the arts.

Next program in three weeks, January 8: Patricia Sesto, Director, Environmental Affairs, Town of Greenwich, "How Can Greenwich Handle Rising Sea Levels?".
