Invites you to its meeting July 3, 2019 at 11:00 a.m.

First Presbyterian Church, Lafayette Place, Greenwich, CT

Gary Rossi

Vice President of Security at Fidelity Global Security

“Practical Tips to Ensure Personal Security and Avoid Cyber Crime”

Many computer users are concerned with securing their online identity and keeping their businesses, homes, and families safe. What are some of the best practices and resources to safeguard your online identity?

Gary Rossi, Vice President of Security at Global Fidelity Security will present practical advice on personal security threats and appropriate risk mitigation strategy. He will discuss how to leverage best practices and resources to maintain your family’s safety and security. Topics include preventing online fraud (using enhanced log-in security), your online presence and resulting digital footprint, vetting household help, residential safety and security, preventing elderly exploitation, and online travel security.

Gary joined Fidelity Investments in 2003 and served as Fidelity’s Head of Corporate Investigations for nearly a decade, which included leading all Customer Fraud/Identity Theft matters, Anti-Money Laundering cases and Cyber-related investigations.

Gary and his team created a comprehensive and proactive anti-fraud program to protect Fidelity’s customers from sophisticated cyber criminals. Gary now works directly with many clients to assist in better understanding current security threats and with building appropriate mitigation strategies for them and their families. Prior to Fidelity, Gary served for 14 years as a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He specialized in a wide variety of white collar crime investigations, which included sophisticated financial frauds, cybercrimes and public corruption matters. Gary functioned as the Chief of the FBI's Undercover and Sensitive Operations unit at FBI Headquarters in Washington, DC. Prior to the FBI, Gary worked as a CPA for Arthur Andersen & Co., and as a consultant for the cyber security consulting firm @Stake (now Symantec).

Gary holds a degree in Accountancy and Management from Bentley University.
