Fred Camillo

“A Champion for Progress in Greenwich”

Fred Camillo will discuss the multiple challenges facing the Town of Greenwich and the progress his administration has made in addressing them. He will speak on the development of public-private partnerships, public safety enhancements, pedestrian-friendly business districts, environmental initiatives, and a host of quality of life policies, from increased educational and recreational opportunities to reduction of noise pollution. He will give us an update on measures the Greenwich police have implemented to protect the Town’s business district. Fred will also discuss his recent appointment to the Connecticut Conference of Municipalities (CCM) and his role as vice-chair of the Land Use, Transportation, Infrastructure and Economic Development Policy Committee, which plays a critical role in influencing our quality of life.

Fred was elected First Selectman of Greenwich, Connecticut in 2019. He previously served in the Connecticut House of Representatives for the 151st district from 2009 to 2019. He is a lifelong Greenwich resident who graduated from Greenwich High School. As a summa cum laude graduate of Manhattanville College, he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science and history. As a former Representative Town Meeting member, he was chair of the Board of Parks & Recreation and the Republican Town Committee. His legislative and community work has earned him awards from the Uniformed Professional Firefighters, the Cos Cob Fire Police Patrol, the Greenwich Council of Boy Scouts, the United States Humane Society, and the CT Votes for Animals’ Legislator of the Year.

An experienced businessman, he was a founding member and former director of Greenwich Recycling. He also taught high school and worked as a baseball coach and mortgage banker. His community service includes serving on many local Greenwich boards.

Next Week: August 10, Nelson Tebbe, Professor of Law, Cornell University, “Originalism and the Supreme Court.”
