Steve Gelbs

“A Conversation with Steve Gelbs - Reporter and Studio Host for SNY”

Steve Gelbs, born in Queens, but raised in Greenwich, graduated from Syracuse University's Newhouse School of Public Communications in 2009. He joined Gary Cohen, Keith Hernandez and Ron Darling in 2015 as a member of SportsNet New York's Emmy Award-winning New York Mets broadcast team. In addition to his role as Mets Field Reporter, Gelbs is also SNY's Jets Studio programming host, which includes SNY's exclusive pre- and post-game shows throughout the Jets season. He joined SNY in 2013 as an anchor and sports reporter contributing to the network's sports and entertainment shows. He is a regular contributor of "Baseball Night in New York" and "Mets Hot Stove."

Prior to joining SNY, Steve spent a year and a half at MSG Network. On the TV side of MSG, Steve served as a host of the "MSG 150" during Knicks and Rangers telecasts, as well as a host for the network's college basketball coverage. On MSG Radio, Steve hosted pre-game, post-game and intermission reports for select Rangers games.

Steve's presentation will offer some background on living the dream that so many young sports enthusiasts aspire to. He'll share insights into players, his unique approach to engaging team players during spring training, team plane traveling stories and some of often overlooked challenges to an incredibly lengthy sports season.

Our next speaker, on May 8th, will be Benjamin Lebwohl, MD, Associate Professor of Medicine, Columbia University, on “The Illness and Death of Ludwig van Beethoven.”
